

Telepresence & Video Professional Services from aap3 On-Demand or Smart Recruitment

aap3 are a Global IT and Business Solutions provider for all business entities, operating across three verticals; Consultancy, IT Engineering, and Recruitment.

Holding a unique position in the TP and video market, aap3's services are vendor agnostic enabling us to provide skilled engineering services across the largest manufacturers in the TP and Video market.

Our breadth of knowledge and accreditations allows aap3 to complement the in-house capability of; vendors, channel organisations and system integrators within a 'services only' delivery model which is non-competitive and focused on delivering for our partner.

Our capability has significantly developed since the inception of Telepresence and we have delivered projects for some of the largest global businesses totalling over 400 installs and 1000's of support requests.

Professional Services - On-Demand

As a certified specialist channel provider of TP and Video Services you will have a full complement of the appropriate skill-sets within your business to deliver end to end solutions.

However aap3 understand that there are circumstances when resources are stretched and deadlines need to be met. aap3 provide the unique ability within this sector to provide engineers with infrastructure and implementation skills across major manufactures to ramp up your internal teams as and when required.

Our accredited engineers can slot seamlessly into your project teams across Europe and immediately become a valued member of the team adding expertise and scale as and when required. aap3's available resources include;

TP Design Engineer, TP Implementation Engineer, TP Project Manager, Network Engineer

Professional Services - Smart Recruitment

aap3 has been at the forefront of IT and Technical recruitment for over a decade working with clients in the UK, EMEA and the Americas. We know that sourcing and selecting the right resource is both a skill and an art.

aap3 are strongly positioned to find, select and recruit the highest calibre of individual with the right background and experience - We know that the best people are not always on the market and our consultants know what to look for and where to look for it.

Our Consultants are backed by our technical VC teams who are aligned with recruitment to provide initial vetting on CV's and first line interviews before candidates arrive at your desk. This structure means you only receive candidates that match your requirements and have been fully advised and briefed on the opportunity. aap3 have successfully recruited for the following positions:

TP Design Engineer, TP Implementation Engineer, TP Project Manager, Network Engineer Sales account managers, Service Delivery, Service Directors, Architects & Pre-sales
